Legion Program May Be Annual College Feature

American Legion Post Is Sponsor of Armistice Day Grid Tilt

Pep rallies sponsored by the American Legion and featuring the legion "goof parade" and stunts by CPS rooters may become a yearly event for the game nearest Armistice Day.

Tour Districts

As outlined by Dr. J. C. Siegle in Thursday's student assembly, Friday's parade began at 7th and Commerce and toured McKinley Hill, 38th and Yakima, South Tacoma, 26th and Proctor, Kay Street districts and finally ended at 9th and Broadway for the final rally at 8:30, which was broadcast.

The parade halted in each district, presented stunts by the students, gave yells and in the words of Dr. Siegle, "Sold Tacoma on CPS." The legion "good parade," three-time winner in Northwest competition was made up of the drum and bugle corps dressed in outfits to suit the name.

Parade on Saturday

Saturday's events started with a parade which covered the same districts as were included in Friday's pep parade. The drum and bugle corps in full dress paraded through downtown Tacoma while members canvassed business houses selling tickets. The American Legion band was present at the game Saturday afternoon and played college songs.

Today Marks End Of Chest Campaign

With today the final day of the Community Chest drive at CPS, the workers are collecting all pledges in an effort to reach a 100 percent representation of the student body in contributions.

At the meeting of the workers, Wednesday, Pat Steele, director, gave instructions to the lieutenants on filling out the pledge cards. Friday the reports of the captains and lieutenants concerning the amount of money collected and pledges made were given. Names of all contributors will be posted.

Seven Puget Sound Men Lost Lives In Active Combat During World War

Seven CPS men were killed in service in the World War, according to the records of the part played by the school in the war, which were printed in the 1920 Tamanawas.

Many Enlisted

Between the years of 1917 and 1919, more than 100 men who were then students or former students enlisted for service. Six of those slain in service fell fighting on the Western Front in France: Lieutenant Edward Rhodes, Sergeant Howard Rogers, Corporals Walter Roberts, Frank Winchell, Sydney Wright and Frank McFarland. Sergeant Chester Warman was killed while guarding the American legation in Nicaragua. Milles Fuller and Ralph Huntington were wounded in battle in France.

Over the desk in the office of the president of the Associated Students is a service flag containing two gold stars. This flag was made in 1917 with the two stars in memory of

Members of the first cast are: David Alling, Lucille Berry, Grace Palin, Dorothy Ann Simpson, Mildred Anderson, Margaret Boen and Jane Ramsby. The second cast, which was selected recently, is composed of Jack Leik, Gladys Harding, Lora Bryning, Gail Day, Jane Bickle, Marie Dwyer and Dorothy Harris.

Professor Gives Talk

Much in demand by organizations of the city, is Dr. Warren E. Tomlinson, head of the German department. This afternoon, the Stadium Parent-Teachers association will hear an address by him on German life and customs. Dr. Tomlinson was the guest speaker at a meeting of the grade school teachers, which was held at the Central school on Wednesday. He spoke on education in Germany.

All-College Play Will Be Given November 24

'Passing of Third Floor Back' Is Production Serious In Nature

With the presentation of Jerome K. Jerome's "The Passing of the Third Floor Back," the Campus Playcrafters will give their second all-college production of the season on Friday evening, November 24, in Jones Hall auditorium. This is a compelling drama in three parts, consisting of a prologue, a play and an epilogue.

Is Serious Play

The play is of a serious nature with an appeal and interest that will be effective long after its production. Its quiet forcefulness is expected to be even more strongly felt since it comes so soon after the portrayal of the weird mystery of the "Black Flamingo."

Rehearsals Under Way

Rehearsals have been under way for several weeks by the following cast under the direction of Miss Martha Pearl Jones, head of the Dramatic Art department.

Mrs. Sharpe Ellen Jorgenson
Stasia Peggy Scudder
Mrs. De Hooley Kathryn St. Clair
Major Tomkins Evalyn Mellinger
Vivian Gladys Neff
Miss Kite Eloise Tuell
Larkcom Mark Janes
Samuels Rodney Lytle
Major Tomkins Phillip Carlson
Christopher Franklin Larson
Wright Ben Robertson
The Stranger James Schrengohst

This drama is considered Jerome's masterpiece, and ranks with such plays as "The Servant in the House" by Charles Rand Kennedy.

Medical Aptitude Exams Scheduled

Medical aptitude tests, now a normal requirement for students entering medical school, will be given at CPS at 2 p. m. on Wednesday, December 6, in room 108 of Jones Hall. All students interested are requested to notify Dean Raymond G. Drewry at once, in order that the proper number of tests may be ordered.

Hour and Half Test

The examination requires approximately one hour and a half for completion, and a fee of one dollar from each applicant is required to defray the expenses of the committee in charge.

All students planning to enter medical school in 1934 should arrange to take the test. It is not necessary that all premedical requirements be completed at the time the test is taken, if the requirements will be completed in time for entrance to the school in the fall of 1934. The test is given only once a year.

Examinations Prove Useful

Last year the tests were taken by 9,131 students of 546 colleges and were used by approximately 90 percent of the approved medical schools of the United States as a factor in the selection of their students. According to the medical schools, these have proved helpful. Seven students at CPS took the examination last year.

Thank You!

To the student body and friends of the College of Puget Sound: On behalf of the Dramatic Art department, the cast, production staff and director of "The Black Flamingo," I wish to take this opportunity to express our appreciation of your cooperation and support of our first all-college play.

Sincerely yours,
Kenneth Powers,
Dramatic Manager.

Two Will Try For Scholarship

Sprenger, Thomas Will Enter Rhodes Competition

Jack Sprenger and Charles Thomas have been selected to represent CPS in the state competition for the 1933 Rhodes Scholarship award.

Two men from each state will be chosen to attend the district meeting, where six states are represented. From the twelve men there, four will be chosen, making 24 candidates from the entire nation. The scholarship pays 400 pounds annually for two years.

Both Are Prominent

Both applicants have been prominent in student affairs during their college years. Charles Thomas, outstanding debater, is a member of Pi Kappa Delta, debate honorary and holds the presidential office of the Senior class, the Inter-Fraternity council, and Delta Kappa Phi fraternity. He is business manager of the Trail and was editor of the 1933 Log Book.

Sprenger Stars on Grid

Jack Sprenger is a four-year football letterman and an all-conference guard. He holds the position of Assistant General Manager of the associated students this year and is a member of the Adelphian Choral Society and the Sigma Zeta Epsilon fraternity.

Flunk Slips Out

Mid-semester reports of unsatisfactory work in any course are to be issued to students some time during the week of November 16 to 20. These reports are called for by the dean's office upon the scholarship of all students, and unsatisfactory conditions are immediately referred to the dean or class adviser. Occasionally the parents as well as the student are also notified.

'English University Education Is Luxury,' States Miss Van Norden

"In England an education in one of the big universities is purely a luxury," Miss Van Norden began and smiled as she added, "The prep schools are places where the students get their 'preparation for life.' Our colleges in America, in comparison, seem to be a combination of prep school, vocational school and the university."

Attend Boarding School

"The young people of England all go to boarding schools except the very poor. The English people have the same feeling towards free schools as we have free medical clinics."

In the boarding schools the students get their character building, general education and extra-curricular activities before they go to college. The masters and mistresses of these schools have not only to be accomplished students but must be proficient in some sport.

Idaho Goal Line Proves Magnetic For CPS Squad

Loggers Now One Step Nearer Northwest Conference Championship

By Jack Leik

Thundering its way over the Tacoma stadium field Armistice Day, a mighty Puget Sound grid team flattened the College of Idaho under a 54-12 score and took one more step towards the Northwest Conference championship. The Logger regulars staged a touchdown parade in the first half that rang up five scores, with Jimmy Ennis kicking a perfect placement after each one. Only five times did the CPS team gain possession of the ball in this half and each occasion saw them march down the field to a score. The power of the Logger line was evident in the fact that the Coyotes failed to crack it for a single first down.

With a team largely composed of reserves the Loggers scored three more times in the last half but Idaho came back with two of their own, the first scores registered this year against CPS in Conference play.

Logger Passes Feature

Taking the ball on their 28 yard line in the first quarter the Loggers pushed up the field with a varied running attack that saw Ennis score on a 9 yard dash around right end. With Havel, Sterling and Ennis leading off yardage in wholesale lots the

Art Study Is Loaned To UW State Museum

At a request from the University of Washington, Miss Rowena Clement Lung, art instructor, has loaned one of her portrait studies of an Indian princess to the state museum at the university where it is now on display.

The portrait is of a Navajo princess, Na-Glee-Nona-Ba, who is famous for her weaving. She is shown in profile, dressed in a costume of red velvet with heavy silver and turquoise ornaments.

Dr. Erna Gunther, curator of the museum, has had the picture hung in the southwest Indian room. With it are several paintings of Miss Lung's former teacher, Carl Oscar Borg, noted Indian and desert painter.

The entrance examinations are given by the university but are corrected and passed on by the special college in which the student desires entrance. The student chooses the college to which most of the graduates of his particular boarding school are going. New College Oxford is made up almost entirely of Winchester graduates because it was founded in the fourteenth century by a Winchester man. Many Rhodes Scholars from the United States, Germany and South Africa also attend New College.

Woman's League Will Hear Report

Allen's "Anthony Adverse" Will Be Program Feature

A book review of Hervey Allen's "Anthony Adverse" by Mrs. Frank D. Martin will be the program feature of the first fall meeting of the Woman's league of the College of Puget Sound. The approach in this review is directed from a psychological point of view.

The league will meet in Jones hall reception room at 2 p. m. Thursday, November 16. After the program, tea will be served in the college YWCA room which, with the assistance of the association's room committee, was renovated and refurbished by the league during September.

All life members and former members of the college league, as well as the mothers of new students, are especially invited to attend.

YW "Charm School" Opens, Tuesday

Mrs. Lyle Ford Drushel will speak to the members of YWCA on "Charm, What Is It" during chapel period, Tuesday. This meeting will be the first in a series of talks planned for the members of the organization. Subjects for the other sessions include "Charm in Beauty," "Charm in Worship" and "Charm in Mannerism."

Graduate Will Speak To Spanish Club

Miss Elizabeth Miller, a former member of La Mesa Redonda and well-known graduate of 1932, will address the members and friends of the Spanish club this evening. The meeting will be held in the reception room of Jones hall.

Traveling in Europe the past year has been Miss Miller's experience. According to her, one of the most enjoyable parts of the trip was two weeks spent in making a tour of Spain. It is upon the events of this period that she bases her talk. The speech will be given in English.

During the remainder of the meeting, Spanish games and music will be played. All visitors are cordially invited.

'Mobilization for Human Needs' Is Talk

"Mobilization for Human Needs" was the topic of Jack Muckey of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce who spoke on behalf of the Community Chest in chapel Monday. Mr. Muckey explained that the Community Chest is a vehicle for gathering funds for the 25 charitable organizations. As a central agency it prevents a duplication of services, protects the families, and provides an efficient system of budgeting and distribution.

Prof. Walter A. Eichinger, pipe organ instructor of the Conservatory of Music played two numbers: "Andante" by Franck and "Toccata" by Widor.

Friday's chapel was in charge of the International Relations club and presented the Rev. Carl H. Veazie, whose topic was "Fifteen Years Ago."

A piano solo by Miss Frances Spencer completed the program.

The regular business meeting, presided over by Miss Mildred Schaad, president, followed the program. Miss Lora Bryning, pledge president, was appointed freshman representative of the Kappa Phi cabinet, which meets regularly on Thursday during chapel period.

SEASONS SCENES

By Doris Hall

HATS

Jersey skull caps peaked with angora are the latest thing in millinery. Any material which stretches readily may be used in making this type of cap. The same fabric can serve in fashioning smart scarfs and over-cuffs for gloves to match the hats. Soft toques are also being featured this winter. In this type, heavy silks and wools may be advantageously used.

Tri-cornered turbans are great favorites. Points on the side, points over the right eye, and points on the very top of hats, are being worn now. In style this season is the hat boasting of a single peak which is set in the middle and far back on the hat.

Pointed styles are, by no means, the only variation this year. Rounded brims and visors are in good standing. This is particularly the case, when the curved part of the hat is aided by ruffles, gathers, pleats and tucks. A plain "pancake" may be made more jaunty by the use of a small bow, feathers or other gay touches.

The stylishness of chapeaux this year may be enhanced in several ways. For instance, at the football game on Saturday, a CPS coed was observed wearing a black soft felt hat with a loose roll of the same material perched aloft. A bantering red and white feather stuck out from one end of the roll. Rivaling feathers in popularity this season, are buttons and braid. Contrasted ornaments of all varieties are the rage. The "ritzest" of all models is the dark colored sailor with its bright bands.

Sigma Zeta Epsilon successfully defended the volleyball championship in its opening series Thursday by defeating the strong Delta Pi Omicron outfit, 12-15, 15-4, 15-8. The Omicrons captured the first game, after a hard battle, but were forced to bow to the strong Zeta team in the last two.

Peter Pugets Win

Defeating the Sigma Mu Chi in an easy game, 15-8, 15-6, the Peter Pugets showed such power that it looks as if the Zetes will have to beat them for the championship.

After a shaky beginning, the Omicrons defeated the Delta Kappa, 10-15, 17-15, 15-8, in a hard-fought match in the first game Tuesday. All the games of the series were close, superior team work winning ultimate victory for the Omicrons. The Alpha Chi Nu-Witan contest was postponed.

'B' League to Start

Volleyball managers are requested to turn the names of the A league players, because a B league schedule will begin next week. There are to be eight men on the A league squad. B squad men will be permitted to advance to the A league, in case of necessity, but once a player is on the A squad he is automatically ineligible for B league competition.

Volleyball Schedule

Tuesday: 12:05—Delta Kappa Phi vs. Alpha Chi Nu; 1:05—Witans vs. Peter Pugets.

LOGGER CHIPS

By Howie Clifford and Otto Smith

Well, how many are going down to the Pacific game? This is the last game of the season and it is also the championship contest. Pacific is always a formidable foe for the Loggers. How about a hundred or so going down as we did last year to see the Willamette struggle? There is nothing the team members would like better than to have a crowd of Logger rooters there to cheer them on to victory and another conference title.

Under the direction of Lou Grant the basketball squad is coming along in good shape with George Pollock, former Lincoln star, as the outstanding prospect. Jim Ennis watched every body else dance with his girl at the Homecoming dance. Wonder who sawed the logs for one of the fraternity house's Homecoming displays. Sandy came to the dance, but failed to entertain with any fancy steps, not bashful are you coach? We missed Amos Booth's usual broadcast at the Whitman game, but received all the dope after the game. O. F. Hite, financial manager, lost a soda on last week's attendance. The Homecoming crowd had him fooled. The more the merrier. —S—

Having picked the games par excellent so far this year we will hope for the best against Pacific next Saturday. We are backing Sandy's tired veterans to give him a final gift by defeating Pacific by at least one touchdown and predict the score to be 13-7. —S—

Truitt Will Welcome Money Raising Ideas

Uniforms for Band Is Aim Of Quest

Who knows how the band can raise money to get uniforms? If anyone has any suggestions, Prof. Homer Truitt will be very glad to hear them. The band has felt the lack of uniforms all season and hopes, by some means, to obtain them before the year is over.

There is probably more musical talent in CPS than any school of its size in the United States, is the opinion of Professor Truitt. A few musicians are needed to complete the instrumentation, a baritone saxophone, an oboe and another mellophone player are especially needed.

The school is buying much concert and pep music and a library is being formed for the use of future organizations.

It is urgently requested that organizations desiring to have the band play for a program, give at least a week's notice in order that the entertainment may be planned ahead of time. The notices should be given to Bill Hipple, who has been chosen to act as band manager for the year, or to Professor Truitt.

IDAHO GAME

second score came soon after on an 80 yard drive down the field. Sterling went over on a one yard plunge.

Roy "Adam" Carlson made a beautiful catch of a pass from Sterling that was good for 20 yards to start the Lumberjacks on their third touch-down. A few plays later and Sterling lobbed one to Ennis good for another 20 yards and a first down on Idaho's ten yard stripe. Davidson rammed it to the two yard line from where Ennis went over.

'Dead-man' Play Works

Receiving the kick-off on their own 30 the Loggers made it first down on the 42 yard line and then Sterling tossed one to Carlson that netted 22 yards. On the next down the Loggers' 'dead-man' play worked to perfection and Ennis scored on a 36-yard jaunt.

Failing to gain, the Coyotes attempted a punt which was blocked by "Coke" McConnell and recovered on their 21 yard line. Two plays later Judy Davidson crashed through tackle for 18 yards and the final score of the half.

At the opening of the third quarter "Mutt" Nelson recovered an Idaho fumble on their 34 yard line but the Loggers lost the ball on an intercepted pass. Shortly afterwards CPS regained possession of the ball when Brooks re-intercepted on his 44. Jack Kimball then faded and rifled a 35 yard pass to Stoeffel that placed the ball on Idaho's 24 yard line. He flipped one to Havel for 8 yards and then tossed the pigskin over the line to Stoeffel for the sixth Logger score.

Idaho Pass Scores

An Idaho lateral and forward pass formation began to click at this point of the game and they worked the ball to the CPS 22 yard line from where Swan passed to B. Tyson for their first score. Try for point failed.

A fumble, recovered by the Loggers on Idaho's 30 paved the way for another score. On the first play attempted Kimball knifed through tackle and out-stepped the secondary defense to run 30 yards to a touchdown. Nace nailed the pass for extra point.

Dungan Breaks Away

The second Idaho tally was the result of a 70 yard sustained drive featured by a Swan to McReynolds pass that was good for 40 yards. Dietrich plunged four yards to score.

Intercepted passes and fumbles saw the pigskin change hands rapidly in the closing minutes of the game. The final thrill came when Dungan intercepted a Coyote pass and ran 55 yards before being forced out of bounds on the 8 yard line. Three plunges later he went over for the last Logger score.

GRID GLIMPSES

"Coke" McConnell

This week's victim is none other than Carl C. McConnell better known as "Coke." McConnell is a veteran on the Logger grid machine, but has never been covered by this column so we decided to do it this week.

Coming from Stadium where he was a two-year letterman in football and a three-award winner in wrestling and track, "Coke" has made a place for himself at CPS. Last year on the Logger squad he played the halfback position, while this season he was shifted to guard where he is an understudy to Jack Sprenger, all-conference guard.

"Coke" was active in student affairs in high school and has continued along this line at college. While at Stadium he was a member of the Hi-Y and one of the organizers of the Poetry and Writer's club. At college he has held the sergeant-at-arms office of his class and is president of the lettermen's club.

Juniors-Seniors Cop Hockey Title

By a 3 to 0 score the junior-senior team won the women's hockey championship in the final game played Monday, Nov. 6 with the freshman first team.

The game was one of the most exciting of the tournament with the junior-senior team scoring all three points during the first half.

The first two goals were hard fought for and were made by Vivian Larsen and Brunhilde Wislicenus. The last goal was made by Anne Pernerl, who carried the ball straight down the field after the center bully. In the second half the freshmen held the junior-senior team to no score. Martha Buckley and Lois Andre played well for the freshmen.

Loggers Tangle With Badgers In Final Tilt

Puget Sound Will Face Last Hurdle of Present Grid Season

With the conference title within their grasp, Coach Roy Sandberg and his CPS Loggers will clash with Anse Cornell's powerful Pacific Badgers in the final game of the current season for the Loggers at Forest Grove Saturday afternoon. Last year the Lumberjacks took their Oregon rivals in a close battle 13 to 7, and as a result the Badgers under Cornell, who incidentally came from the College of Idaho this season, will entertain their Tacoma guests with plenty of fireworks.

Pacific Is Strong

The Pacific gridsters so far this season have had a fairly good year, having won from Whitman by the score of 14 to 12 and lost a pair of close contests to Willamette and Linfield, two of the strongest members of the circuit. Pacific has won the remaining games of its conference schedule.

In the Logger lineup six players will see their last action under the Maroon and White, namely: Judy Davidson, hard-hitting fullback and a punt specialist, Park Gagnon, captain and center, and a big cog in the Logger defense; Jack Sprenger, watch-charm guard and probably one of the outstanding linemen of the conference; Jack "Pop" Slatter, the reliable old stone-wall tackle who has served four years along with Sprenger on the Logger elevens, "Swede" Lindquist, hefty end, and "Detts" Sterling, all-conference quarter.

Killits Is Big Gun

Sandberg will have an abundance of worries, over the speed demon Killits. He will be stationed at left half on Cornell's lineup. Other Pacific football artists that are worrying Sandy are Weinel, halfback; Carrigan, quarter; Critzfield, a four-year letterman at fullback and Douglas a giant center, completing his third year in football ranks at Forest Grove.

In the Logger camp Jimmy Ennis, Judy Davidson, Burdette Sterling, Ed Havel, Jess Brooks and Jack Kimball will probably carry the brunt of the attack in backfield duties, while the regular line of Carlson, Slatter, Sprenger, Gagnon, Briles, Olsen and Lindquist will comprise the forward wall of the title bound CPS eleven.

Coach Sandberg expects to take 24 football men and one manager on the trip.

The Small College

The scale that weighs the advantages of the large and the small college furnishes the subject of much discussion for students when choosing a college to attend. Sometimes we are prone to think that the balance on the side of the larger institution is the heavier, that its advantages greatly outnumber those of the smaller school. Certain outward, superficial benefits seem to set up a mist through which we fail to see the good points of the small college.

One illustration taken from conditions as they exist at a large university might well make us thankful that we are students in a so-called "small school." At the institution mentioned it is necessary that a number of students enrolled in certain classes stand up along the walls of the classroom and take notes by resting their notebooks on an arm or on the wall. Without doubt many of these people would gladly give up a few high priced fraternity or sorority houses, a few social functions or a little of the glare of the big campus life in order to be permitted to sit down during classes, as we are permitted to do here.

It is true that this is only one example but this one example should awaken us to a more thorough analysis of our privileges as students of a small school. Such an analysis would reveal many advantages that we are permitted to enjoy and that we too often overlook in our tendency to look with wide-open mouths at large colleges and universities. —A. L.

What Do You Think of It?

It is the aim of the Trail staff to edit a paper that will satisfy the desires of the students and faculty of CPS in so far as those desires come within the bounds of good journalism. With this purpose in mind we would appreciate suggestions and criticism from you on any phase of the work.

Are we giving you the type of news that you like to read? Are we giving you too much of some things and not enough of others? Are we giving your group the proper space in the paper or are we overlooking your activity? Are there other features that you would like to see in the Trail? We would solicit your answer to those and other questions. Drop in at the Trail office and give your suggestions and criticism and this way you will be doing your part to make this phase of our college life what it should be. —A. L.

Business before displeasure
(That's why this is being written during class period.)

A certain episode occurred last week that concerned Jack Burns, Gail Day and a pair of pants. Jack was very emphatic in his desire that it should not get into print. He even tried to bribe me with a free dinner at the frat house. However, believing that the demand for scandal was more ravenous than my appetite, I suffered the pangs of martyrdom and now you have the facts.—For further information consult Jack personally.

It has been proven that a large number of the cases of those mentally disturbed (screwy) have been cured. Well, there's some hope for college students yet.

Band Instructor's Career Demonstrates Musical Capabilities

Rangoon, Burma—the black velvet of the night made thicker by the clang of elephant bells, the steady pulse of the beating drums, the weird cry of jungle beasts, city of mystery and romance—was the first home of Prof. Homer M. Truitt, CPS band instructor, but he left it when he was three years old.

Wins Honors

Winning a place in the National High School orchestra for his exceptional work on the clarinet, and spending a summer at the National High School Musicians' camp in 1928 at Interlaaken, Wisconsin, started Professor Truitt definitely on his musical career. Carrying off the honors in a solo contest sponsored by Illinois Wesleyan in Bloomington won him a scholarship to that institution from which he was graduated in 1933. Professor Truitt has his Bachelor of Musical Education degree and is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon. While in college, he led two high school bands and was himself a member of the college band, orchestra and A Capella choir.

Likes Music

"I like music of any kind," Mr. Truitt said with his infectious grin. "It's my vocation and avocation." He performs especially on the clarinet and saxophone but teaches any instrument in the band.

Miss Van Norden Views English College Students

picion and probably be refused entrance to another college. The younger boys are governed by the older boys though "fagging" has largely been done away with. The discipline in the schools is very severe, almost military, probably because the army is a preferred career. The uniforms, which are worn by all students, are, usually, dark suits, long trousers and little, slip-around sailor hats, called "boaters," that resemble the straw hats American men wear, and which have bright bands of the school colors.

"I remember seeing on a bus in London in July a little boy, who was apparently, just home from boarding school, dressed in his matched hat-band and tie, with his tennis racket and cricket bat." Miss Van Norden went on. "He was telling his beaming mother that he had been shaving for several weeks and had her feel his cheek."

Girl's Dress Unusual

"The girls' uniforms are hideous. They dress the same from the ages six to eighteen, and wear a box-pleated, dark blue serge jumper that hangs straight down from the shoulders, with a belt around the middle, white jumper, suit jacket, a boater and dark blue cotton stockings or socks. On Sundays they wear this outfit in light pongee."

At Oxford there are five organized colleges for the women beside the Oxford Home students who can't afford tuition.

"The women struck me, on the whole, as being in dress and taste younger than the average university woman here, but I thought that in conversation and social ease they were much older," Miss Van Norden stated.

The school girl lives a very restricted life. She has no contact with men and does not dance. Games and sports are her chief amusements.

Juniors Will Elect

Existing vacancies in the offices of the Junior class are to be filled at a special election to be held in room 204 of Jones Hall tomorrow during chapel hour. "We have been handicapped by these vacancies," states Jack Kimball, president of the class of '35, "and it is necessary to remedy this situation immediately."

A recent innovation established by the University of Southern California marks a forward step in education. Establishment of a new school to which holders of the Ph. D. degree are admitted without payment of tuition was announced last week. Its aim is to develop in the minds of qualified men and women an attitude which will not be satisfied with mediocrity and to encourage original thinking and independence of thought.

Might not a lessening of the financial worries create a similar situation upon the minds of those holding a lesser degree or even among undergraduates?

A leisure time school conducted by UW instructors to give the unemployed persons of college age a taste of higher learning was so successful last year that it is planned to open another in the near future.
